"It's not the last rose of summer, but the last Saturday half-holiday."

"Death follows in the wake of the flying machine."—Burlington Clipper.
 More often the wake follows the death.

Hill collectors, take fair warning from your brother in Massachusetts, who got lead instead of "tin" and from a gun at that.

Probably Chancellor Day of Syracuse university is busy with the opening of college; which may explain his silence on this latest Standard Oil sensation.

It can't be that John R. Rockefeller "needs the money" that he is publishing his autobiography. Then it must be that he is trying to "set himself right" in the public eye.

Dartmouth's freshman class of 425 is as big as a small college; and here was Dartmouth only a few years ago professing to be only a small, country college. The New Hampshire institution has had a wonderful growth within fifteen years.

First Wilbur beats Orville, then Orville beats Wilbur, and now Wilbur has again turned the trick on Orville; but the latter can't retaliate, as he is flat on his back with too much experimenting with aeroplanes. But granted a return to health and the Wright brother who is on this side of the ocean may be depended upon to surpass the record of the other, who happens to be across the "pond" with his airship.

Closely following a recent complaint from a state source that certain Vermont newspapers disregarded the confidence reposed in them and published a report before the time stated, now comes an instance of a reputable Vermont publication which disregarded the release notice on a United States Geological Survey document. This hardly looked like an oversight, either. No doubt the contemporary would like to be treated fairly by the other newspapers in the state; the others would certainly like to be treated fairly by this contemporary.

WOULD ROB THE GLORY OF SMALL FAIRS.

Fascinated as they are by the agricultural fair and all its appurtenances, Vermonters will think twice before they acquiesce in the proposition of President Maxwell Everts of the state fair commission that the state appropriate a large sum of money for the further aggrandizement of the exhibit at White River Junction. The state fair idea had a stormy time of it as it was last session, getting through only on the stipulation that the state should not be asked to father the project to the extent of putting in a large appropriation each year.

This opposition was due largely to the protest on the part of many who indirectly represented private fair associations, that it would be doing an injustice to the smaller fairs. There was perhaps more or less of a selfish motive in this kind of opposition; but over and above the selfish motive there is a feeling that it would not be well to do the paternal act for this one undertaking, for sooner or later it would result in the submerging of the smaller fair associations which have a hard time making both ends meet under present conditions. And to submerge most of these smaller exhibits would be to deprive very many people of the privilege of attending any agricultural exhibit in the fall season. The success of fairs is dependent upon the attractiveness of the programs which they are able to muster; and all know that few could compete with a state-fostered institution in setting forth new features.

If the state fair gets a large appropriation each year it can, by means of it, lure away much of the patronage from the other exhibitions and thus cause their decline in a short time. Then the glories of the country fair will have faded into memories, to give place to a mammoth exhibition, where the modest efforts of the small farmer would have no place.

GREEN'S DOUGHNUTS

are made with the idea in mind that after you eat one you'll want another and another—and that you'll buy Green's Doughnuts next time. They have to be made of the best ingredients in order to follow out this idea. 10c a dozen.

Jelly Doughnuts.....12c a dozen.
 Cream Puffs—big fat ones, with real cream in them, taste better—better—than the ordinary kind. 25c a dozen, and worth it.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Barre's New Library.

Barre dedicated the Aldrich Public Library Tuesday. The address was by Judge Wendell P. Stafford, and was masterly. To those who can remember Barre as pictured by Judge Stafford in the long ago, it is like turning back a leaf in memory. The Aldrich library is the gift of one of Barre's foremost citizens, the late Leonard F. Aldrich, who was active in the business affairs of Barre a half century ago. It is a munificent gift and an added honor to the Granite City.—Gronow Times.

GOMPER'S CONTINUES STORY.

Says Prosecution Is for the Purpose of Persecution.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Winding up his testimony in the contempt proceedings before Referee Harper yesterday, President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor charged that the entire proceeding was an attempt to curtail his right of free speech and editorial comment.

He didn't believe, he said, that the injunction ordered against him had deprived him of his constitutional rights and he didn't believe that his right of editorial utterance and free speech had been forfeited because of the institution of the contempt proceedings against him. He declared further that in his opinion he was not enjoined from editorially analyzing the decisions of Justices Cuthbert and Gould and to discuss them in the columns of the American Federationist.

Counsel Ralston charged that the proceedings were not brought by the prosecution to obtain a judgment, but merely for the purpose of obtaining data upon which to base endless legal persecutions.

JUDGE TYLER INJURED.

His Wife Also Hurt in a Runaway Accident at Brattleboro.

Brattleboro, Sept. 26.—Judge James M. Tyler of the Vermont supreme court and Mrs. Tyler were injured in a runaway accident Thursday afternoon and are confined to their home as a result, although their injuries are not such as to cause alarm. Judge Tyler received a cut over one eye, a contusion on one leg, and one ankle was sprained. Mrs. Tyler was cut on her lip and one arm was injured.

The accident happened at Judge and Mrs. Tyler were driving down the Oak street hill. It is thought that some part of the harness gave way and that the carriage ran forward on to the horse. The horse kicked and started to run, throwing Mrs. Tyler out. At the corner of Chase and Oak streets, the carriage collided with a coupe and then a pole, but Judge Tyler clung to the reins and was drawn over the dashboard.

Vital Organs Torn.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Andrew Babo was taken from Burlington, Ind., to a hospital here with his vital organs torn by a jet of compressed air. He will probably die.

He is the victim of a joke played at the plant of the Buffington Cement company, a subsidiary concern of the United States Steel corporation, where he was employed as a laborer. Because of his ignorance of English, he was made the butt of many jokes, primarily the harmless practice of turning a jet of compressed air down his neck and watching the dust fly from his clothing. As Babo took little notice of this, his persecutors put the nozzle of the air jet in his mouth and opened the stop cock, lacerating him in a frightful manner.

Granite Cutters' International Association of America.

A meeting of Barre branch, G. C. I. A., will be held in Miles' hall on Tuesday, Sept. 29, 1908, at 4 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of voting for delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention, to be held at Denver, in November. Also to vote whether we will raise our per capita tax to state branch, A. F. of L., from 1 cent to 2 cents a member per month. The ballot will be left open from 4 to 8 o'clock p. m.

A. M. Smith, Secretary.

Martedì, 29 Sett., al Miles hall, alle ore 4 p. m. avrà luogo la votazione per la nomina dei delegati alla convenzione del Denver, Colo., della American Federation of Labor del Novembre prossimo, nella stessa occasione si deve anche votare se dovremo o no accettare, per la Sezione Statale dell' A. F. of L. lo aumento della tassa personale da 1 a 2 cent per ogni membro e per mese. La votazione resterà aperta dalla 4 alle 8 p. m.

A. M. Smith, Segretario.

RANDOLPH

Mrs. F. A. Holbrook after passing several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Rauscher, and other relatives, left for her home in Brooklyn, N. Y., Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Webb started for their home in Key West, Florida, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Collins and Mrs. Mary Saxton, guests for several days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Boedicke, went to Springfield and Northampton, Friday.

Miss Gertrude Parsons arrived from Montpelier and is at the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Ingalls.

Mrs. H. W. Lewis and infant son have arrived and as soon as the household goods arrive the family will take up their residence at the McCollum house on School street. Mrs. Lewis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hopkins, accompanied them here from Lyndonville.

V. A. Grant has the assistance of Floyd Russell, a registered pharmacist, from Claremont, N. H., in his drug store.

The tenement recently vacated by Miss Ada Burroughs has been leased by J. M. Booth of Bethel Gilead and the first of the month will take possession. Mr. Booth has employment at the Edison feed store.

Miss Clara Dame, who has been critically ill for several days, is now rapidly failing and her condition is such that very little hope of her recovery is entertained by the friends.

Mrs. J. H. Blodgett was taken to the sanatorium Thursday evening at 10 o'clock. She underwent a surgical operation from which she rallied and Friday was as comfortable as could be expected.

MARSHFIELD.

Many farmers are without water, and farmers are drawing water for their cattle.

Mary Brown returned to her work as trimmer in the millinery parlors of A. S. Lowell & Co., Worcester, Mass., last week.

Mrs. George Reed and infant daughter went Wednesday to Rochester, N. Y., where they were joined by her husband. They will make their home in that city.

BUSINESS RECOVERS GRADUALLY.

R. G. Dun & Co. So Report—Distinct Progress in Boston.

New York, Sept. 26.—Dispatches to R. G. Dun & Co. indicate further moderate progress in distribution of merchandise except in some sections where unseasonably warm weather retards fall retail trade. Boston reports show that while improvement is slow and irregular, there is distinct progress in both commercial and industrial activities.

IRISH VOTERS WIN.

Government Meets With a Surprising Defeat By Irish Vote.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, Sept. 26.—The Irish vote, alienated by the action of the government in prohibiting the procession in connection with the recent Eucharistic congress in London, in which the host was to have been carried through the streets of that city, and strengthened by the idea of tariff reform has indicated a crushing blow on the government in the bye-election held here yesterday to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons representation from Newcastle-on-Tyne caused by the death of Thomas Cairns, Liberal.

With the majority of more than 3,000 in the general election of 1906, the Liberals went to the polls full of confidence; the outcome, however, was a great surprise. The Unionist candidate, G. Newick, who returned from this constituency in 1900, was elected with a majority of 2,143 over Mr. Shortt, the Liberal candidate. The Labor-Socialist candidate, Mr. Hartley, polled 2,971 votes.

HURT IN FOOTBALL PRACTICE.

Waterbury High School Player in Serious Condition.

Waterbury, Conn., Sept. 26.—Wilfred Balthasar Martin, halfback of the Waterbury high school football team, is in a serious condition at the local hospital as the result of an injury to his spinal column during a practice game of football Thursday. His body is paralyzed from the shoulders down.

RACETRACK CRUSADE CONTINUES.

Violations of Anti-betting Law Alleged at Recent Gravesend Meet.

New York, Sept. 26.—Charges of violations of the anti-betting law at the recent meet on the Gravesend racetrack are said to have reached the Kings county grand jury Thursday and to be under investigation. District Attorney Elder, who has been active in measures for the observance of the law, says that such an investigation could not be concluded this week. Frequenters of the tracks were notified in the grand jury ante-room Thursday and it was reported that several racing men of prominence are under subpoena as witnesses.

Four Years Not Enough.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 26.—Four years of college work do not suffice to give the training now called for in our engineering professions, says President James P. Angell of the university of Michigan in his annual report to the board of regents. Speaking of salaries paid to college professors, President Angell says: "It is unhappily true that on the salaries we are able to pay it is seldom that a professor with a family, which he rears in a manner becoming his position, accumulates enough to retire with comfort in his old age. This is so obvious that men do not generally enter upon the career of college teaching from pecuniary considerations."

NOTICE TO USERS OF CITY WATER

The water situation is critical. The water department is obliged to take immediate steps to prevent the waste of water. It will, therefore, have its men look over the polishing mills and business blocks. Wherever it is found that water is being wasted the water will be shut off entirely. Users will govern themselves accordingly and have fixtures repaired at once. The use of hose is positively forbidden.

Per order, water committee.
